Dedication

Great pride is taken in bestowing this dedication, our greatest honor, on a man who has devoted so many years of his life to developing and guiding young minds, formerly as a teacher and principal, and now as our guidance counselor.

Service to others, both in the community and in the school, has been the keystone of his life to the extent that he has come to be loved and revered by all who know him.

We, the senior class of 1961, dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Edmund D. Kelsey.

NEAL T. SKILLINGS, PRINCIPAL

To the Members of the Class of 1961:

As you graduate from Wachusett Regional High School, all our best wishes go with you. Whether you enter industry or the armed services, go on to institutions of higher learning or become a housewife, you should be better fitted for the future because of your years here.

We are proud of this school as, without a doubt, you are. In a few short years Wachusett Regional High School has risen from a dream to a place of eminence among the secondary institutions of this country. We have an excellent reputation wherever we are known.

May this yearbook, with its pictures and data, long be a cherished memento of four happy and profitable years at Wachusett Regional High School.

Best of luck to you all,

Neal T. Skillings

WACHUSETT REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL
HOLDEN, MASSACHUSETTS

To the Class of 1961:

In addition to a sound secondary school education in your four years at Wachusett, we hope that you have developed attitudes, ideals, values, and understandings that eventually will result in your self-discipline and in your willingness to accept the responsibilities of adulthood.

Best wishes to all,

Charles N. LaPrade
Assistant Principal

Guidance

MR. CHARLES W. BARTLETT
Guidance Director

We wish to extend to you a most cordial invitation to continue to use our guidance services. We are sincerely interested in your careers and hope you will keep us informed as to your progress.

We will contact you in five years and we hope you will welcome our follow-up service. In the meantime please feel free to write or visit us. Very best wishes for your success in the future.

Sincerely,

Charles W Bartlett

Superintendent

Some two thousand years ago, a man unknown wrote a message which should become part of the philosophy of each graduate of the class of 1961. It expresses any message I might wish to convey to you far better than I am able to word it.

"Look to this day, for it is life. In its brief course lie all the verities and realities of your existence; the bliss of growth, the glory of action, the splendor of beauty. For yesterday is but a dream, and tomorrow is only a vision; but today, well lived, makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope. Look well, therefore, to this day, such is the salutation of the dawn."—from the Sanskrit.

Sincerely,
Dr. Charles L. Bowlby

CLASS COLORS
Light Blue and Silver

History of the Long ago and far away, in the never-never land of Holden, there dwelt a superior race of people. They were known as the class of 1961. Being the chosen race, they were destined for the BEST OF EVERYTHING. They began their illustrious career with four years at Wachusett Regional High School, and their record is such that it is almost too splendid to put on mere paper pages. Their deeds are deserving of silver sheets, lovingly etched upon with a pen dipped in gold. But, here, for the eyes of mortals, is the heaven-touched, star-gilded, history of the class of 1961.

The first duty the chosen people performed was to elect officers to lead them on to deeds consistent with their great capabilities. Entrusted with this heavenly duty were Ronnie Wagner, President; Diane Briggs, Vice-president; Marsha Forrester, Treasurer; and Jeanne Gibson, Secretary. On Student Council were Mark Travis, Peggy Lorenz, Linda Wall, and Georgia Washburn. The class went their star-studded way, joining activities, participating in sports, and, in general, making Wachusett a better place in which to go to school.

Thus the chosen people spent the first quarter of their Wachusett career. To lead them in their SOPHOMORE year, they chose Bruce DeWalt, President; Sharon Koski, Vice-president; Marsha Forrester, Treasurer; and Jeanne Gibson, Secretary. On the Student Council roster were Georgia Washburn, Peggy Lorenz, Linda Wall, and Chris Castendyke. They continued traveling down the silver pages, writing their own exciting history. Not only did they lead clubs and have members in every type of varsity sports, they also were brilliant and beautiful. In this same year, Marsha Forrester and Becky DeWalt were elected to the May Queen's Court.

In their JUNIOR year, the chosen people borrowed the name of its prom, Deep Purple, from the shades of the celestial haven from which they had originated. Linda Hamilton was the beautiful queen.

Guiding this most illustrious class through their Junior year were Bobby Lane, President; Sharon Koski, Vice-president; Marsha Forrester, Treasurer; and Kathy Lundquist, Secretary. The Student Council members were Georgia Washburn, Linda Wall, Sonja Oker-strom, and Jeanne Gibson.

This year, like the other three, showed that the Agricultural Department, too, could hold its own. Ably headed by Robert Johnson, the members of this department left Mr. Warren and Mr. Gribouski with the feeling that never again would there be such first rate future farmers as those in the Class of 1961.

And their SENIOR year was the most fabulous of all!! This year, Bobby Lane was President; Sharon Koski was Vice-president; Marsha Forrester was Treasurer; and Kathy Lundquist was Secretary. On Student Council were Peggy Lorenz, Jeanne Gibson, Henry French, and Sonja Okerstrom.

The football season was characterized by a strong feeling of optimism. Although they lost every game, the boys fought hard and long, and the students on the benches were supporting them every inch of the way. Responsible for a large share of this enthusiasm were our senior cheerleaders, Kathy Lundquist, Marsha Forrester, Peggy Lorenz, and Sonja Okerstrom.

Holding high their track and cross-country reputation was John Pape, who spent his time making records, only to break them the next chance he got.

Scholastically, too, the class of 1961 was not to be outdone. John Najemy, a member of the class, went to Italy as the first foreign exchange student from Wachusett. In turn the chosen people entertained Retsu "Bon" Miura from Japan as a member of their class.

The most stupendous feat of all was their Senior Play. It can never be equaled. Again, the chosen people borrowed the theme from heaven. Almost the whole Senior class participated in the production of this Negro fable. Green Pastures will long live in the memories of its cast, production crew, and audience.

In short, these chosen people were a boon and benefit to Wachusett. The underclassmen, especially the freshmen, should be grateful for the presence of the Class of 1961, and feel themselves truly enriched by the experience. It is only fitting and proper to preserve their record forever for all to see, for its heavenly magnificence can never be emulated.

Prophecy;

Characters: Angels
Time: 2100 A.D.

Setting: Two angels are lounging on a fluffy, pink cloud. They are planning a party. A party for what? It's to be a combination reunion and celebration, a reunion of the class of 1961 and a celebration because, except for two, they have all made it. Made it where? To Heaven, of course. Their chatter is interrupted by a new arrival.

Bill O'Connor! What are you doing here? We didn't expect you!

Well, after my fifty years on the police force, they figured I'd redeemed myself. Hey, I heard about the party. Sounds like a real blast.

Yeah, listen to what we've got lined up. Dick Rayworth is bringing his trumpet. Remember what a success he was with Lawrence Welk? Lloyd George, of Babylonian Band fame, is going to play the drums. Gypsy Rose Tarbell and Joann "Bubbles" Smith promised to dance.

I think that Bob Baggs is going to do magic tricks. He had a great gimmick on earth—"Bob Baggs and his Bulging Bags of Bunnies." If there's a big crowd, he might even saw Irene Racca in half. John Elmendorf promised to read some poetry from his book, Limericks for Lost Lovers.

Is Eddie Bracebridge going to do the cooking? He's a terrific chef.

No, Eddie's over in the infirmary. He walked into a star again.

Oh, that's too bad. But at least there's a good crew of nurses over there. Elaine Lundquist, Carol Hultin, and Elaine Haddad really make being sick a pleasure. And Joan Reidy is the best X-ray technician the infirmary has ever had.

But we still need someone to do the cooking.

Maybe Buddy Mellor will help out. He was very successful back on earth with his "Mellor's Mangled Meatball" Company. Of course, he couldn't miss with Kenny Russ slinging the spaghetti and Richard Martin mixing the sauce.

Joan Black and Dorothy Niemela are making an ambrosia pizza. Marilyn Wilder and Ann Lackey are out in the meadow now, picking the most luscious ambrosias this side of earth. Only the best will be used.

Remember how John Nourse was always breaking records for milking cows? Well, he's still at it up on the Milky Way. He promised to fill the Little Dipper for the party.

Wayne Grinkis said he wouldn't come unless we had tortillas and baked frijoles, so Rosemary Pielaszczyk is making some.

Jean Sheldon said that she would bake ten dozen chocolate cookies.

Sheila Dulmaine is making a few batches of her famous fudge. I heard her business "Grandma Dulmaine's Fabulous Fudge" Company really made money.

Who's going?

Why, everybody—except two, that is.

What do you mean, except two?

Well, let's put it this way. There are two of us working for the other guy.

But as for the party, Phil Hague will be there. Remember him? He was doing a fabulous business until the Revenuers caught up with him.

And then there's Dick Hogberg, who got into trouble for counterfeiting green stamps.

Gee, our class had a lot of great businessmen. Howie Heinold and Rollins Hale were great as professional fan club organizers.

Carl Wesley was just the right man to test mattresses in Dave Sullivan's "Magnificent Mattress Manufacturing" Company. Dave hired him because he figured Carl had served a lifetime apprenticeship for the job anyway.

We've also got some great scholars in our class.

Yeh! Peggy Dunigan really made a great discovery when she designed those fancy do-it-yourself angel robes.

What about Brad Barber and his study of Manic Depressive Tendencies in Armadillos, or Bob Corey and his discovery, the no-cal tortilla?

Don't forget Steve Tosi and his famous articles on history. I liked his last book, A History of New England, and All That Stuff.

I still think of Doctor Carl Gromblom who devoted his entire life to the study and cure of Athlete's Foot.

How about Lynn Kliphouse and her study of anemia in grasshoppers?

Talk about scholars, have you heard about the new school they're planning for the cherubs? They're getting only the best teachers.

Joan Friel is going to teach French, and Dave Lionett, Latin. Danny Martelli is taking over the English department, and Allan Tuukanen is in charge of mathematics. He wanted to teach Spanish, but Karen Nelson is taking care of that. We left the history department to Walter Henry.

Say, what is Mike Grogan doing over there with that tape measure?

Oh, he's measuring the circumference of heaven.

Gee, it'll take him a couple of eternities to do that. But, then, we have all the time in the world up here anyway.

Oh, look! There goes Aleta Bourget skiing down Cotton Candy Cloud.

You think Aleta is bad—you should see Paul Mercer chasing after falling stars with his hockey stick!

How about Paul Sjoman always using the moon as a shot-put?

Donald Andrews warned Paul not to do that again; it alarms the earth people to see the moon scuttle across the sky at night. Donald takes his job as Gabriel's assistant pretty seriously.

Maybe he's the one who locked the pearly gates on those other two members of our class.

What's that yelling I hear? It sounds like a carnival barker.

Oh, it's just Mike Cove selling his Heavenly Love Potion #9. Yesterday, he broke a bottle, and some of the moon-dogs lapped it up. They got so sick, they had to be taken over to Jimmy Lawrence's and John Moineau's Animal Hospital.

Bob McMahon certainly doesn't need any of that stuff. He was known as the world's greatest lover . . . until his wife caught him. Then Dick vanLeeuwen took his place.

Anyway, getting back to the party. Who's decorating the place?

Sue DeNoyer and Lion Mercer are taking care of that. The whole place will be painted a green shade to match Madeline Pond's hair. Diana Burroughs will wear a red ribbon in her hair so we can tell the two apart. Pat Temple mixed the paint yesterday.

Judy Martocci and Roseann Morrissey are in charge of putting up the crepe paper streamers.

Duncan Johnson, a successful pansy peddler from way back, is bringing some sky blue pansies that will look just heavenly on the refreshment table.

Claudia Holmes is serving the punch and Carol Robinson promised to supply the ice cubes from the heavenly frigid zone.

Hey, what was that noise?

Oh, that's Mickey Olson. She's been practicing her moose call all day long. Being new up here, she can't get used to the fact that it's against the rules to talk to the earth people. She's still trying to get through.

Edna Arcouette and Dotty Barry had the same trouble. As if they didn't have enough people to talk to up here!

Well, maybe they can get interested in some new books. They can ask Marion Wilson over at the library. That's where Jean Gauvreau spends her Saturday nights. She sure has changed from her earthly life.

Oh, here comes the heavenly airplane. It arrives about once a week bringing the new arrivals from earth. This flight should bring the last of our group. Doug Webster assured us that they'd be here before the party. He said he had read it in the stars.

I see John Asplund is still the pilot. You mean he hasn't bumped into any stars yet while eyeing the hostesses, Frances Pielaszczyk and Barbara Anderson?

Apparently not. But he came pretty close once to running into Ray Heikkila on his souped-up cloud.

Isn't that Dave Richards flying off the plane?

Yeh, and he's still got that devilish look in his eye.

Who's that getting off now?

Well, surely you remember Don Lampson! He was the world's greatest rock and roll singer, until he threw his hip out of joint.

Here comes Jimmy Gregg bouncing his basketball down the stairs.

Oops, he dropped it! Linda Johnson is flying down to get it. She's always doing nice things for people.

There's Priscilla Adams in her silver-tinted angel wings with halo to match. It's the latest style up here in Heaven. She always was quite the fashion model.

Talk about colors, look at Judy Allen in the only pale purple angel robe in heaven.

What about Dick Lindquist's new gold-plated motorcycle boots!

And even Cliffy Olson! How did he get by Saint Peter with his halo so crooked?

Don't you think that's because he's so tall and maybe the halo tipped when he was getting out of the plane?

Well . . . maybe.

Here come Carol Clark and Joyce Bigelow. They were renowned missionaries in Africa, until the natives ate them.

Finally the heavenly choir is arriving. Late as usual! Leonard Dunican, the choir director, probably overslept again.

Don't they sound beautiful? The celestial voices of Carol Crooker, Pat Dakota, Barbara Phillips, Donna Rossier, and Henry French blend in nicely with Lennie's snoring.

Here come Lois Sommerville and Frank Kramer, the last ones off the plane. Now we're all here.

You mean, all except two!

What about these two who didn't make it? It wasn't Pssssss? was it?

No, they're here. But Dickie Wall had quite a fight with Saint Peter. He wanted to bring his car in with him, but Saint Peter objected.

That's nothing. Dave Swanson is still out there trying to get his Model A in. Some people just won't admit that you can't take it with you.

Oh, oh. Look out! Dave Walton just knocked Jack Cronholm down. Dave's been naturally clumsy since he fell off a gingerale bottle at a party back down on earth.

Have you typed out the invitations to the party yet?

No, I'm leaving all those details to the celestial Executive Department. Joanne Watson and Lynda Childs are head secretaries over there, and they'll see that it's done correctly. Jeff Pratt will handle any financial arrangements.

Financial arrangements?

Yes, we have to rent the south portion of the moon. Anita Cox is busy on the phone doing that now.

Jackie Cormick is borrowing the most illustrious stars in heaven for the occasion. Steve Beebe promised to arrange them over the dance floor. Doug Forsberg and Stan Gradowski will do the heavy work and Steve will make sure that it isn't too bright in that area!

Allen Petterson and Paul Fraser are creating a waterfall to add to the beauty of the celebration. It will be glorified with various colored lights, and Wilfred Boisvert is thinking of renting out towels to anyone who accidently cha-cha's through it.

There's Dick Clemence teaching the newcomers how to use their wings. He has quite a unique way of teaching them.

I guess so! He's got Jack Armstrong and Fred Blokland doing double flips to limber up their flying muscles. Dick Fullum and Dick Harvey are throwing moom beams back and forth to secure proper balance.

Oh, no! Eddie Blanchard just tripped over his jumprope again. At least Winifred Swenson and Joyce Rosenlund are right there with the first aid kit.

People in our class sure were on the ball! That is, all except two.

Did you know that Sharon Koski was the first woman Secretary of Agriculture?

She always did get along well with Farmers. Whose administration was she in?

Bruce Fitch's. Boy, what a President!

Who were the rest of his staff?

Well, Doug MacKenna was Secretary of State, and John March was Secretary of Labor. Then there was Kenny Mott, Secretary of the Interior. Tommy Nawn worked for the Health Department.

John Villnave did a great job as Secretary of Defense. He kept us out of war for at least eight years. Of course, he also put William Ferro's Atomic Appleseed Astronauts out of business.

Dave Greene was Attorney General in that same administration.

Our class was talented if nothing else. I remember we had some great song writers, too. Fred Haines wrote "My Love for You is Like a Tubeless Tire."

And Fred Kennedy's version of "I'd Buy You the World But I Don't Have Enough Green Stamps" went over great.

Eddie Lupien wrote "Love Is a Fallen Arch" and Marieann Cloutier followed it up by writing "Please Help Me, They're Falling."

It looks as if they're having trouble with the plane again. They can't seem to get it started. Oh, here come Ronnie Morrow and Steve Adams—they'll fix it. They're the best mechanics in Heaven.

Oh, I don't know. The girls are pretty handy too.

Remember the time that Linda Wisner and Patty Hopper fixed the nectar cooler with a hairpin?

And Virginia Holt does pretty well gluing halos on with Heavenly Bubble gum.

Some people need to have their halos glued on with bubble gum. Bobby Coyle and Jimmy Smith are forever getting into trouble, even in Heaven.

Speaking of halos, I'd better be getting on home to polish mine for the party.

You're lucky you have one to polish. I heard there was a shortage of halos and they had just enough for everyone in our class.

Not everyone. All, except two.

Last Will and Testament

We, the HUMBLE, OBEDIENT, and GRATEFUL Class of 1961, leave Wachusett Regional High School in great sorrow. We have spent four happy and rewarding years here; we leave now, knowing that we shall never, never spend four years like this again.

All that we are we owe to Wachusett . . . All that we have we owe to Wachusett . . . All that we hope to become we owe to Wachusett.

Therefore, as the time has come for parting, we desire to leave these few humble tokens of our appreciation and deep respect to the underclassmen, who we hope can emulate our unequalled devotion to this sacred and hallowed institution.

First of all, to the JUNIORS we leave our football record, hoping that they will never equal it.

To the SOPHOMORES we leave two whole years to prepare a Senior Play to top "Green Pastures." We know that the Juniors could never do it.

To the FRESHMAN class, we leave something really different: our benevolent thoughts and best wishes.

To the incoming Freshmen, we bequeath a twenty-two room addition and the fond memory of happy hours spent studying in the check room, faculty dining room, area offices, telephone booths . . .

Ruthie Fitzgerald leaves—with everyone following her!

Janice "I got a letter from Dave today" Dufva leaves her unflagging loyalty to Sue Martin, who'd be very loyal if only she could decide which one to be loyal to.

Theresa Kristoff leaves the enviable distinction of being the only girl in the Aggie Department to Barbara Fiske who would love it!!

Paul "May I help you?" Eisenhauer leaves his gentle courteous manner to the Junior boys, who could certainly use it.

Dave Laclair leaves his gift of smiling in the face of any upset to the faculty, who regard each day as a minor catastrophe.

Thelma Brown leaves with a happy sigh. After all, she's engaged.

Gail Bates leaves her whistle to Ruth Ellen Noonan who doesn't need it either.

Bob A. "Stop staring at me" Johnson leaves his ability to blush at the slightest provocation to Nancy "Nothing bothers me" Schofield.

Lee Bracy leaves his temperamental Chevy to anyone with a strong enough vocabulary to make it run.

Joan Lemire leaves her job at the office to Bob "I'm always there anyway" Clouthier.

Barbara Ahearn leaves her blonde, blonde hair to Judy Meatty, who is still trying.

William Bachant leaves his Pat Boone vest to Dickie Morse——to go with his Elvis Presley haircut.

Gail Greene leaves her lovely handknit sweaters to Meriel "Brrr, this library is cold in January" Hubbard.

Donna Zoppo and Skip Perron leave, together.

Kenny Fox leaves a million used flash bulbs to Richard Masters.

Donna Dalton leaves by the back door—her pocketbook full of doorstop wedges.

Robin Burrows leaves her magnetic body to anyone who has a pale opal.

Priscilla Mann and Marilee Maloney leave their undying friendship to any two underclassmen who can stand each other for that length of time.

Timmy Rogers and Kenny Olson leave their reserved seats in detention hall to Jimmy Bacon, knowing that he will not abandon them.

Joanne Smith leaves her collection of rings, fraternity pins, and broken hearts to Kris "I don't bother saving them" Johnson.

John Pape leaves, knowing that the only one who can outrun him is Beth Ruggles.

Arthur Peabody leaves 150 old Nixon buttons and one new Yankee pennant to George Najemy.

Dan Pelley leaves his magic wand to Dick Moulton with the warning, "It can't get you out of trouble."

Russell Vickery leaves his little brother.

Adele Laig leaves her ingratiating manner and pleasant personality to any sophomore planning to take chemistry.

Glenn "Tokyo Thomas" McLain leaves his warped bowl to David McPhee, in case he needs a haircut.

Ronnie "Yea, team" Putnam leaves his hysterics at basketball games to Joanie Nielson.

Gary Spongberg leaves his Babylonian harem to Dick Munoz.

Jeanette Seymour leaves her secret of going steady successfully to Kathy Toomey.

Linda Lewis leaves her book on Zen Buddhism to Mary Chandler.

Audrey "Old Mother" Hubbard leaves her French book to Ann "It's my favorite subject" Belanger.

Kathy Scott leaves her tortilla recipe to John "Look, I'm a bullfighter" Kingdon.

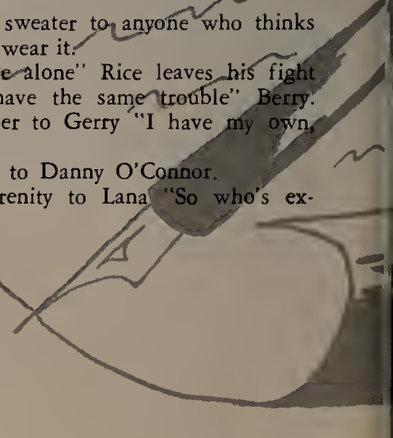
Dennis Harrington leaves his gold sweater to anyone who thinks his shoulders are broad enough to wear it.

Dave "I wish girls would leave me alone" Rice leaves his fight 'em off powers to Dennis "I have the same trouble" Berry.

Eddie Taylor leaves his Irish temper to Gerry "I have my own, thank you" Fitzgerald.

Bruce Bourque leaves his ski poles to Danny O'Connor.

Freda Kristoff leaves her calm serenity to Lana "So who's excited?" Ericson.



of the Class of 1961

Judy McGann leaves her long blonde hair to go with Marilou Prentice's big blue eyes.
Robert Donaldson leaves his pale pink freckles to next year's make-up crew.
Charlie Packard leaves a gallon of anti-mumps vaccine to anyone else who takes his girls out.
Walter Crosby leaves his unique basketball form to Wayne Manilla.
Joe Lunt and Everett Pierce leave Sterling to anyone who won't make fun of it.
Jimmy Cole leaves 45 monogrammed shirts to anyone with the same initials.
Tom Haney leaves a putty knife to the Orange Airport ground crew, so they can scrape up the rubber he left there last summer.
Georgia Campbell leaves her Teenage Road-e-o trophy to Mr. Torpey who needs something to prove he can drive.
John "These are my people" Migdelany leaves next year's Senior Play in a dilemma.
George "Beep-beep, yea Duke" Weston leaves a shock absorbing telephone pole to A.T.&T. to make up for the one he hit.
Jim Nystrom refuses to leave anything, insisting he's taking it with him.
Joan McGann leaves her quiet ways to Marilyn "Can everybody hear me?" Roman.
Charlie "Boy, am I tired" Sullivan leaves his comfortable home room seat to Arnie "I've already got one" Berry.
Charlie Jeffers leaves his famous left hand to Bobby LaPrade, who will put it to good use.
Kathy Rittberg leaves her typewriter and a box of band-aids to Jeff "What's a typewriter?" Bailey.
Dave Pineo leaves his end of the senior corridor to Roger "I do all right in the sophomore corridor" Knipe.
Dick Williams leaves his butch to Doug "Mine won't stand up straight" Keefe.
Paul Skarin leaves his hatchet-man technique to Bob "Jungle Jim" Schang.
Elizabeth Carney leaves her green plaid tartar to Christine "I'm a Scot" MacAuliffe.
Sonja Okerstrom leaves her place on the cheerleading squad to Gail "I've been trying for two years now" Robertson.
Brad Creamer leaves his red convertible to Dick "I'm tired of thumbing" Edmonds.
Wayne Conforti leaves his back seat in contemp class to Ronnie Grinkis, who thrives on back seats.
Linda Hamilton leaves her entrancing eyes to Eileen "I do pretty well with my own" Lorenz.
Danny Cooke leaves what's left of Mayo's Falcon to Carol "What do you mean I can't drive?" Chandler.
Mary Ann Ikalainen leaves her short stature to Sharon Malo.
Pete "I can draw maps" Giroud leaves a plan of Wachusett to the incoming freshmen and those freshmen of this year who are still bewildered.
John "I was a monitor" Currier leaves his policeman duties to anyone else who likes to tell people where to go.
Sue Loungway leaves a few inches of height to Linda "What do you mean short?" Sherwood.
John Parkinson leaves his many friends to his brother who already has quite a few of his own.
Brian "It pays to look innocent" Hardy leaves this ability to Walter "But it doesn't work for me anymore" Coolidge.
Judy Peterson leaves a book on neatness to John "Well, I guess I do look like a beatnik" Wentworth.
Peggy Lorenz leaves her bubbling vivacity to Tom "Wake me when class is over" Hardy.
Kern "I always look on the bright side" Narva leaves his optimism to Allison "I'll never be able to do all this homework" Harrington.
Judy "I won the prize at the Sterling Fair" Listowich leaves her fruit preserve recipes to the Home Economics Department.
John "I'm a Bullard Street Boy" Henrickson leaves his job at King's to anyone else who has a girl friend working there.
Barry Wiles leaves his unique red pants to Jim McClain.
Judy Koenig leaves her dancing shoes to Paul "Watch me do the Twist" Stacy.
Nancy Jones leaves, but her name remains behind.
Carolyn Kemp leaves her "Ralph" button to any girl who has a boyfriend named Ralph.
Nancy Graham leaves her charge plate to anyone who can find it.
Richard Johnson and Robert L. Johnson leave, hoping the office name files will be a little less confused.
Joyce Erickson leaves her vivacious laugh to Lester Princeton.
Linda George leaves, hoping that Pete Griffin can come with her.
Sue Bond leaves her ability to be heard to Nancy "I'm in the Pep Squad" Jones.
Jim Lonergan leaves his seven-foot slide rule to any farsighted physics student.
Arthur Bruce leaves his charm and good looks to "The Hen."
Helene Ruchala leaves a stack of football programs and wishes of luck to next year's football captains.
Ray Fish leaves a bottle of Glade for the geraniums in the greenhouse.
Cathy Janes leaves the distinction of being the youngest person in the senior class to Bruce "I'm still a freshman" Sjoblad.

We, the class of 1961, leave our appreciation and sincere thanks to the faculty of Wachusett.

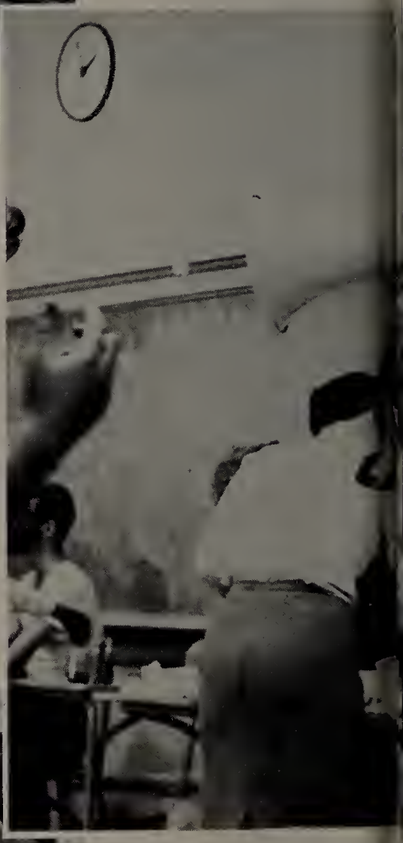
A blond Negro?? Oh well, anything goes in THE GREEN PASTURES.

When mischievous angels tore their robes, our seamstress and her trusty sewing machine were right on the job.



Mr. Barker and his megaphone — inseparable.

More make up—more work—more mess—but most of all, more fun.

D'Lawd and Noah speak with the earthly make-up crew.

Heaven and Hell got together for the only time in eternity.

Almost anything could come out of this loudspeaker—and usually did!

"When I wuz a boy, boats wuz built down by de riber where de water wuz."
